OK, the hot new store - if you didn't know already - is Charm, a darling jewelry boutique in Georgetown, just doors down from the Four Seasons Hotel. I can't count how many chic friends have asked me "Have you been to Charm?" Owner Jaclyn Mason has assembled a vast collection of jewelry and accessories and will assist you in styling a statement piece to a particular outfit - whether you are going to a wedding, a holiday party, or any special occasion. Shopping there is a very personalized experience.

Mason says the store has over 30 different designers from different areas across the world. She travels to places such as South America, Europe, Middle East and New York, hand-picking the pieces she feels would best fit the theme of her store.

Beginning December 7, Charm is hosting a 3-day holiday shopping extravaganza with a 15% discount! Make a list of the ladies on your shopping list and shop the baubles! (I am loving the piece on the invitation below!) This is a perfect opportunity to select a knock-out necklace or bracelet for your bridesmaids!
